What's Happening @ SPL?

A TASTE FOR BOOKS

Saturday, April 29th from 6 - 8:30 p.m.

Join us as we race around the world dreaming of Phileas Fogg and his many adventures. Step back in time to the late 1800s and dress in the period or the native garb of these exotic lands. Travel from continent to continent and savor traditional foods from 20 countries. Be sure to get your passport stamped along the way to be eligible for the grand prize drawing at the end of the evening.

Meet the Staff

My name is Cheryl and I am the Circulation Supervisor. I am honored to work in such a great library since March of 1998. I have many favorite parts to working in the library; giving children their first library card, and their excitement of checking out books for the first time, or helping someone find a book they didn't think a small-town library could possibly have.

I must admit my favorite genre is Romance, but I also enjoy a good narrative non-fiction. It is a great way to learn of subjects you would never read otherwise.

Outside of work I love to train all things dog! My best dog friend is "Gidget," our six-year-old Border collie. We compete in obedience, agility, and rally, but we also play with disc dog, tracking, and herding. Trail running is my other passion, and one I can also enjoy with our dogs. We are lucky to live in an area with such easy access to many great trails.

The Perilous Journeys of Migratory Birds

Saturday, April 22nd @ 1 p.m.

Every spring, millions of birds migrate north from South and Central America to breed in the United States and Canada. Along the way, these intrepid animals face countless threats. Using his own photographs, youth ornithologist Patrick Newcombe discusses the migratory patterns of bluebirds, osprey, kestrels, and warblers--all found in Warren County--as well as those of unique birds from Tanzania.
