Meet the Staff!

My name is Nicki and I am the Library Director. I was hired in 2009 after working as either a Branch Manager or Library Director in several other libraries: Rappahannock County, Loudoun County and Rockingham Regional (now the Massanutten Regional Library). I love libraries and have worked in libraries for close to thirty years.

My former occupations include a Firetower Operator on Carter Mountain in Albemarle County and Artist in Residence in Nelson County, Virginia. There I supervised the building of foot trails and walking bridges in the Crabtree Falls State Park along with the Neighborhood Youth Corp children, taught Art in all the Nelson County public schools and painted many murals in the schools before going back and finishing both of my College degrees. I traveled from Browntown to the University of Maryland four days a week for over a year, before moving to Berryville to be closer to Graduate School, finishing

What's Happening @ SPL?

The library will be closed for New Year's on Monday, January

I love working at Samuels Library because we have such a great group of employees, volunteers and Library Board members on both the Library, and the Friends Boards. We are so lucky to have such great folks both working here, and visiting the Library. The people that come into the Library tend to be wanting to learn something new, and are often the most fun and interesting people to talk to about anything. If I could just get paid to chat all day with everyone that comes in, I would have my dream job. But it is close.

Favorite books I have read recently include The Nightingale by Kristin Hannah, Summer World and Winter World by Bernd Heinrich and the sweet A Man Called Ove by Fredrik Backman.
